AUTHENTIC WORSHIP ✚ INTENTIONAL RELATIONSHIPS ✚ SACRIFICIAL SERVICE ✚ RADICAL GENEROSITY

HAPPY NEW YEAR 2024!

Every year many of us resolve to eat better, exercise more, live on a budget, get organized, read our bibles more, go to church more frequently, join a small group, and get involved in something to benefit others. While there are lots of books we can purchase to help us understand why we don't succeed at getting far from the starting line, I'd rather open 2024 with an invitation to consider a few practices to get us to the finish line.

It probably won't surprise a person who claims faith in Christ that any possibility of arriving at the finish line will involve prayer, bible study, and holy conversation. Even more so, it won't shock anyone to learn that I believe calendar (assigned times), database (people), and task list (the steps you'll need to take to succeed) are joined at the hip with those beautiful disciplines. If you're more inclined to learn from the business world or social sciences, you'll smile when I tell you their suggestion and smile even bigger when you put it all together. They recommend that you surround yourself with people who support your goals, specifically, those struggling with the same or similar issue.

I need all the above. I love engaging God's beautiful creation. Any opportunity to join in where God is smiling and crying brings me great satisfaction. When I read scripture, pray alone or with others, and participate in healthy discussion with those interested in intentional relationship building, I am energized. When I'm with people who seek a regularly scheduled meeting time for this activity, and it is based on a desire to be more intentional in building relationships, I feel especially blessed. When I study scripture, I typically try to visualize the 'scene'. A 'snapshot' in my mind to focus my thoughts so as to not get distracted, has proven to be extraordinarily helpful. Sometimes my snapshots are memories of where I've failed horribly and sometimes they are a scene of where I have seen God at work. What follows is the explanation of the snapshot I carry with me as I serve among you. It helps me to keep my eyes on Jesus.

Recently I was most powerfully affected by the scenes of Christ and Nicodemus in the final two episodes of the series, The Chosen. This series on Netflix is based upon biblical texts and filled in with fictional details. Even so, the spiritual lessons remain. Rozann Lee explains, "In Episode 7, we see Nicodemus' conversation with Jesus as recounted in John 3:1-21. A man of great honor and influence, entirely and rightly rooted in the Jewish Law, recognizes in the most profound way that the young itinerant seated across from him is the fulfillment of the Law, the long-awaited Messiah."

She continues, "The series has followed him as he has struggled to understand, with humility and openness, who Jesus is and what that means. Jesus, at the close of their conversation, asks Nicodemus to follow him. His request was a literal one, and the viewer witnesses how the idea astounds Nicodemus, a man of his age with a family and a place in the Sanhedrin. Should he leave it all behind to walk behind Jesus from village to village proclaiming truths about a "kingdom" that was different than any he'd ever imagined, about a rebirth that defied all understanding? Jesus gave Nicodemus the date, time, and place to meet, and the viewer watches the wheels continue to turn in the mind of this newest convert."

Adding more detail she writes, "This all leads to the most haunting and tragic moment of the series thus far. Episode 8 follows the Apostles as they gather, preparing to leave Capernaum on their way to Samaria—the public ministry of Jesus on its first tour. And as you hear the Apostles count heads, you can see Nicodemus around the corner in agony, knowing the invitation has been offered . . . and knowing he won't take it. Peter finds a purple bag of gold coins that was tossed by Nicodemus toward the group, a recognition of Jesus and his invitation, but a meager and somewhat sad response to that summons to an adventurous, self-forgetful new life. Jesus' face betrays his disappointment as he laments under his breath, 'You came so close.'"

She takes us a little deeper. "Nicodemus had a family. He had a daughter who had just given birth to a new grandson who he had not met. He had a wife who had become accustomed to the stable, secure, and beautiful life his position afforded. The idea of uprooting all those good things without knowing what the uprooting actually looked like was a seemingly insurmountable hurdle. Nicodemus, as hard as he might have tried, couldn't jump over it. He watched in anguish as Christ and his disciples walked away on mission."

Then she brings it home with piercing words, "But . . . that disappointed expression; that 'You came so close' on the mouth of the Lord of the Universe. I shudder to think of the number of times those words were spoken about me. Today, let us allow grace to overwhelm our capacities and always lead us to the choice for Christ and adventure of self-forgetful love."

This year you will be offered opportunities to draw closer to God. The heart of St. John, the beloved disciple, can be discovered in the Gospel of John in your bibles. The heart of our beloved St. John's can be discovered in the behavior of our members. "May we always respond with the great 'yes' that we, as armchair quarterbacks, put into the mouth of The Chosen's Nicodemus."

Be blessed!
Pastor Bob

WORSHIP NEWS

Sunday, January 7 @ 9:30 am
Baptism of Our Lord &
Commissioning for Mission to Mexico

Our re-creation in baptism is an image of the Genesis creation, where the Spirit of God moved over the waters. Both Mark's gospel and the story in Acts make clear that it is the Spirit's movement that distinguishes Jesus' baptism from John's. The Spirit has come upon us as upon Jesus and the Ephesians, calling us God's beloved children and setting us on Jesus' mission to re-create the world in the image of God's vision of justice and peace.

Sunday, February 11 @ 9:30 am
Transfiguration of Our Lord

The Sundays after Epiphany began with Jesus' baptism and end with three disciples' vision of his transfiguration. In Mark's story of Jesus' baptism, apparently only Jesus sees the Spirit descending and hears the words from heaven. But now Jesus' three closest friends hear the same words naming him God's Beloved. As believers, Paul writes, we are enabled to see the God-light in Jesus' face, because the same God who created light in the first place has shone in our hearts to give us that vision. The light of God's glory in Jesus has enlightened us through baptism and shines in us also for others to see.

Wednesday, February 14 @ 7:00 pm
Ash Wednesday

On Ash Wednesday we begin our forty-day journey toward Easter with a day of fasting and repentance. Marking our foreheads with dust, we acknowledge that we die and return to the earth. At the same time, the dust traces the life-giving cross indelibly marked on our foreheads at baptism. While we journey through Lent to return to God, we have already been reconciled to God through Christ. We humbly pray for God to make our hearts clean while we rejoice that "now is the day of salvation." Returning to our baptismal call, we more intentionally bear the fruits of mercy and justice in the world.

WHAT ARE PEOPLE SAYING?

A recent note from one of our members:

"I am a devoted listener to Public Radio. As I listen to the various programs, I keep hearing that intentional relationships are the way to avoid violence, to have peaceful communities, and to understand each other. I reflect on this idea whenever I see our core values displayed. It is amazing to me how often this paradigm comes to mind. Thank you for pushing us to live it!"

WEATHER RELATED CLOSINGS

Our 'Inclement Weather' policy at St. John's states that when the Boyertown Area School District is closed, we follow their lead and cancel all meetings and events. For weather related closings, check Channel 69 News or www.wfmz.com.

WHAT'S GOD UP TO IN PRESCHOOL?

By: Melissa Schaeffer, Preschool Assistant Teacher

The children and staff of St. John's Ministry to Families with Children of Preschool Age are settling in nicely as we have already enjoyed three months together. The children are getting to know one another and building friendships while learning about Jesus as well as academic curriculum with some fun activities mixed into our days.

We continue our Bible curriculum:

Judges: God rescued Abraham's family from Egypt, who had been slaves for 400 years. God gave the Israelites judges to help them to know how to live. A wise judge named Deborah sat under a palm tree and people came to her for help with their problems. God told Deborah to send Barak to get rid of Sisera's people. With Deborah's help they were able to save the Israelites. God gives us wise people to help us. We talked about if we need help to ask God.

Esther: King Xerxes was looking for a queen; he chose Esther to be his queen. King Xerxes didn't know Esther was one of God's people. Haman was angry and hated God's people so much so that he asked the King to plan a day to hurt God's people. Esther was scared for all her people. She knew she needed to be brave and ask the King for help. Esther asked God to make her brave, then she asked the King to change the plan. The King said yes and found a way to protect God's people. From Esther we learned when we are scared or afraid we can ask God to help us to be brave.

In addition to the Bible stories we continue learning a letter from the alphabet each week. We learned H and T and reviewed the previous letters.

At Thanksgiving, the children had a Thanksgiving celebration. Each class made a Thanksgiving bracelet from a pipe cleaner and different color beads. Each bead represented something different about Thanksgiving. The classes then came together to enjoy a special "Thanksgiving" snack and fellowship.

During November we continued discussing what and who we are thankful for. The teachers also had a Professional Development Day on November 3, which was very informative. We all felt as though it was a day well spent working as a team to look at ways to continue to bring our best to the children and their families.

December brought a "Happy Birthday Jesus" party for the students. We also learned the songs "Jesus Loves Me" and "Away In A Manger" to spread some holiday cheer to residents and staff at Walnut Woods on December 20.

On behalf of the preschool staff, we are happy to be part of the St. John's ministry team. Together we hope to bring the children and their families support, guidance, and God's love into their hearts.
