

The First Commandment

You shall not have other gods.

Question: What does this mean?

Luther's Answer: We must fear, love, and trust God more than anything else.

An answer in today's words

A “god” is anything that has control of our life. It could be alive (like a person) or a thing (like money, status, power). The God who made the world and comes to us in Jesus wants nothing else to be in the way – God wants to be first and most important in our lives.
